

Complexity and challenge: triennial analysis of serious case reviews 2014-17 Webinar

Final report, published by the Department for Education (March 2020).

Marian Brandon & Peter Sidebotham

60 Mins

Marian is Professor of Social Work and Director of the Centre for Research on Children and Families at the University of East Anglia. Her research activity focuses on child protection, children's views of child protection, family support and inter-agency working.

Peter is an emeritus professor of child health at Warwick Medical School. He has over 20 years' experience as a consultant paediatrician, designated doctor and academic specialising in child protection.

Webinar Objectives

In this Webinar, Marian Brandon and Peter Sidebotham introduce key messages from the Complexity and challenge: triennial analysis of serious case reviews 2014-17 final report, published by the Department for Education (March 2020).

- To be reminded of the pathways to harm and pathways to protection in the context of complexity and Challenge.
- To recognise the key learning arising from this triennial review when working with neglect, poverty and vulnerable adolescents.
- To identify opportunities for prevention and protection when working together with other agencies; at the boundaries between services; being aware of how language is used; understanding key factors in how the system can support good practice.
- To be able to reflect on your own practice in light of the key learning for practitioners in different agencies.

Copy & paste the link into your browser to watch this very interesting webinar.

<https://seriouscasereviews.rip.org.uk/>

There is also a link to download a copy of the full report:

There are practice briefings in this series that you may be interested in. These focus on the individual learning for each service and are also available on our website

Wakefield
Safeguarding Children
Partnership

Please email your Feedback or Comments to:
wscpevents@wakefield.gov.uk

