

Trauma-informed responses in relationship-based practice recorded.

Danny Taggart

59 mins

Research in Practice

Overview

- How does recognition of adolescents' past experience can play a critical role in supporting the safety, permanency and wellbeing of adolescents and young adults.
- A practical understanding of developmental trauma can enable workers to move beyond reactive responses to people's presenting behaviour. In this webinar, Danny Taggart introduces his Frontline Briefing and explains how recognition of adolescents' past experience can play a critical role in supporting the safety, permanency and wellbeing of adolescents and young adults.

Copy and paste the link into your browser to go to the website and view the webinar

Scroll down press play on the left

<https://www.researchinpractice.org.uk/children/content-pages/videos/trauma-informed-responses-in-relationship-based-practice/>

Wakefield
Safeguarding Children Partnership

Once you've viewed the webinar email your comments to wscpevents@wakefield.gov.uk

